Ban on political activities in educational institutions is the expression of fear: BS0 Azad

The Central Spokesperson Baloch Students Organization Azad termed the ban on political and organizational activities as the state conspiracy and added that the ban on political and organizational activities is aimed to make students victim of mental impotent and to complete its dangerous ambitions—which cannot be accepted in any condition.

The political struggle of students has compelled the state to be frightened and in reaction the state, once again, began victimizing the Baloch students as its main target in order to neutralize the effects of its fear.

The state imposed ban on Baloch Students Organization Azad (BSO Azad) in 2013 with aims to restrain the continued political activities in the Baloch society but state's all conspiracies remained failed before the sacrifices and politically conscious-ridden and peaceful student leaders and activists, and BSO Azad today as well is paying its duty of politically educating the youth in Baloch society.

Since a long time, the state is trying to distance the Baloch students to the national struggle and the current move is linked with this same policy because the state wants that Baloch students should be dispersed and be distanced from political education and activities and should be incapable to compete the state policies by becoming robots—which isn't accepted in any condition.

The Spokesperson further said that the ban on political activities in educational institutions is a conspiracy to scatter the builders of the future. Students should fully resist this move and defeat the state by competing its educational and political bans through the power of their unity and solidarity.
